THOMPSON LEADS "EARLY" GOLFERS

Chevy Chase Player Has 89 in Qualifying Round of Columbia Tourney.

Morven Thompson of the Chevy Chase Club led in the early play today in the qualifying round of the Columbia Country Club fall golf tourney with a card of 89. Next to him was William J. Hoover of Columbia with a score of 91.

Other scores turned in up to 1 o'clock were: F. B. Pyles, Columbia, 92; C. C. Van Lear, Columbia, 94; W. J. Eynon, Columbia, 97; J. J. Henderson, Columbia, 97; Dr. W. B. Carr, Columbia, 101; Fred S. Swindell, Columbia, 104; L. E. Lapham, Columbia, 104.

The course is very soft and frequently when the ball strikes on the green it picks up a lump of mud, making putting difficult. The bulk of the players who are picked to make the first flight did not start until around noon and their scores will not be in until after 3 o'clock.

Nearly 125 Starters in Fall Tournament; Eddie Brooke in Game

J. E. Lapham of the Columbia Country Club and H. E. Patten, unattached, led a field of nearly 125 starters in the Columbia Country Club's annual fall golf tournament, which started with the qualifying round at 9 o'clock this morning. Between 9 o'clock this morning and 2:05 o'clock this afternoon practically every player of note in the District of Columbia and many players from out of the city who have a chance to win the event.

Away down the entry list and practically unheralded, the name of Edward P. Brooke, unattached, stands out. Eddie Brooke, as he is known to hundreds of Washington golfers, is thus signaling his return to the game. Six or seven years ago Brooke was known as the leading golfer of the District. He won every tournament of note about the Washington Golf and Country Club, who is playing very fine golf just now; George P. James, Albert R. McKenzie, George H. Chasman, Donald Woodward, L. E. Lapham and E. B. Eynon, Jr., all of the Columbia Country Club, and John N. Camp, Morven Thompson and Allan Lard of Chevy Chase. Surprises may be registered, however, by A. L. Hawes of Richmond, who played very well in the middle Atlantic tourney last spring, or George W. Elkins, Jr., of Huntingdon Valley, Philadelphia. The delegation of out-of-town cracks, such as the Corkran brothers of Baltimore, Woody Platt and George Heffner of Philadelphia, who it was thought would enter, have failed to materialize, and the affair will probably be confined only to those entrants published in yesterday's Star.

The entire day today will be taken up with the eight-hole qualifying round, and five flights will be paired for the match play rounds tomorrow. Semifinals in the match play will be played on Saturday, when the course will be open only to competitors in the tournament.

Prizes are offered for best gross and the best two net scores in the qualifying round today. The course is in fine shape and has been improved by the rains of the past few days. The greens, however, are slow to pitch which the new first green, which has been rebuilt, will be in use today for the first time since last June.

SOLDIERS "STOP OVER" HERE.

500 of 51st Coast Artillery Are on Their Way to Camp Jackson, S. C. More than 500 soldiers of the 51st Coast Artillery Corps arrived in Washington early this morning for a short stay before continuing their trip from Fort Hamilton to Camp Jackson, S. C.

The men had been riding on the trains all day yesterday and were tired to get out and "stretch a leg." K. of C. secretaries were on hand to greet them with all sorts of comforts, having been informed by a telegram from headquarters in Boston yesterday that the men were on their way.

"Fair Return."

To the Editor of the Star: Referring to the "fair return" feature of the Cummins bill and the recent letter of the Association of Railway Executives taking exception thereto, now it is expected that railroad credit can be restored, that the companies will be able to finance themselves through issue of stocks instead of bonds, when earnings are thus restricted? It is not as if by the bill a "fair return" on the properties were guaranteed—it is merely made sure that they shall not get more!

Problems

Some mighty problems now confront us, there is a crisis every day; one problem canned, some others hunt us, and take the joy of life away. The times are grave; I hear my neighbors denouncing things; they rant and roar; they have suspended all their labors to argue at the Blue Front store. I do not join them in their ranting, their crisis rags I do not chew; all day they see me gallivanting on useful errands, fro and to. The times are grave; we make them graver by quitting work to paw the ground, e'en though the spels we make may savor of wisdom widespread and profound. I let the problems go to thunder; we are with statesmen well supplied, who tear the jimcrow things asunder, to see what works they have inside. And all the day I'm busy toiling, I'm banking up my humble shack, to keep my cherished spuds from spoiling when come the wintry storm and rack. There's too much talk and too much twaddle, there's too much piffle, wind and bunk; and while my neighbors rant and dawdle, I'm salting down another plunk. There's too much idle, bootless drooling, too much of larynx and of lip; when all the fellows quit their fooling the problems will get up and skip.

DIVIDED AS TO MERITS OF U. S. RULE OF ROADS

Members of National Association of Railway Utilities and Commissioners Discuss Question.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., October 16.—Discussion of the merits of government control of railroads, begun yesterday at the afternoon session of the convention of the National Association of Railway and Utilities Commissioners here, was continued today.

Division of sentiment as to the merits of the railroads has been manifest throughout the meeting and yesterday George C. Wiles of West Virginia, a member of the association's committee on "public ownership and operation," submitted a statement at the annual report of the committee as not being vigorous enough against government ownership. On the other hand, Lawrence B. Finn of Kentucky spoke for an hour in advocacy of government control.

This morning's session of the convention took the form of a conference on electric railroads and on practices in fixing rates, the conference on this subject having been postponed from yesterday afternoon. This change in the program moved the final general session up this afternoon.

New executive and valuation committees were announced by William H. Shaw of Illinois, the new president, as follows: Executive—Dwight N. Lewis, Iowa, chairman; Joseph B. Eastman, Interstate Commerce Commission; E. I. Lewis, Indiana; William G. Bushby, Missouri; R. Hudson Burr, Florida; Lewis Nixon, New York; J. J. Murphy, South Dakota. Valuation—H. G. Taylor, Nebraska, chairman; John M. Kinkel, Kansas; Frederick J. MacLeod, Massachusetts; John A. Grier, Iowa; E. F. Morgan, West Virginia; Paul P. Hayes, Indiana; Hance H. Cleland, Washington.

VEILED PROPHETS TAKE 117 INTO MYSTIC ORDER

Triple Celebration Ends at Liberty Hut, Where Mirth Holds Full Sway.

A class of 117 trembling neophytes, including two members of Congress, were last night initiated into the Mystic Order of Veiled Prophets, the same being locally identified as Kallipolis Grotto, No. 15, M. O. V. P. E. R. The event assumed the nature of a triple celebration which included an "old-fashioned supper" at Masonic Temple, served by the time before the organization, and a parade from the temple to Liberty Hut and a ceremonial there at which the class of candidates were escorted cautiously across the adventurous trail into the land of grottoism.

Grand Master Wright of Pittsburgh addressed the prophets in complimentary terms for the healthy condition of the organization in Washington. He said that each year the Grotto is expanding throughout the country and gaining more friends among master Masons. Upward of a thousand members of Kallipolis welcomed the incoming prophets into the secrets of the order, and a mixed show and athletic carnival was the entertainment provided for the guests. The Grotto orchestra played for the time before the organization, and was warmly received. The band provided the music for the parade and ceremonial and the drill corps of the bodyguard for the new members and the visiting guests from Richmond and Baltimore. The Grotto was assisted in the preparation of the program by Andrew Walker, Charles Stever, E. W. Libbey and C. W. Fennell. E. W. Libbey is secretary of the local grotto and C. P. Boss is master of ceremonies. Representatives Elliott and Fairfield of Indiana were the congressional members who joined the grotto last night and the others included Masons of Washington, Maryland and Virginia.

BILL WOULD FORBID USE OF ANOTHER'S BOTTLES

To prevent milk dealers from appropriating and using each other's bottles and similar exchange of bottles among dealers in other lawful beverages, Representative Moore of Virginia has introduced a bill to the District code. The bill provides that persons dealing in milk, cream, etc., with their name, trademark or other device blown, engraved or pasted by label on a bottle may file with the Supreme Court a description or sample and the words registered. Published notice of the same may be made in a Washington daily newspaper once a week for three successive weeks.

Then any other dealer, who, without written consent from such registrant, defaces, covers up or removes in any way this name or trademark, or who sells, gives away or takes such bottles, shall be punished by a fine of from 50 cents to $25 for each such vessel or by imprisonment from ten days to six months.
